
THE DARLALORIAN

CHAPTER 5: ERNIE THE MUTT

Following the kidnap of the Puppy Child by murderous bounty hunter Boba Hett, The Darlalian follows him to the palatial puppy palace of criminal canine kingpin of the cosmos, Ernie the Mutt.

Once a respected member of the Starset Society, Ernie had gone into business for himself in an attempt to corner the market on all of the food in the universe. Now his constant feasting had caused him to reach gigantic proportions. Ernie was so big that his gravitational power pulled other criminal E.T.s into this orbit.

As The Darlalian enters Ernie's lair, he sees The Puppy Child on a leash and almost crushed by Ernie's bulk. Behind him stands Boba Hett, as well as the members of Starset, who have shown up in a desperate attempt to convince Ernie to once again be a good dog.

Using a giant jar of peanut butter treats as barter, The Darlalian regains custody of The Puppy Child. He then motions to the members of Starset to conference with him in the hope they can reunite the child with her own.

It is then that our story takes an incredibly strange twist...
