
THE DARLALORIAN

CHAPTER 6: WE INTERRUPT THIS COLORING BOOK

The Puppy Child has been freed from the clutches of Ernie the Mutt. However, things quickly become even more complicated for The Darlalian.

Lead Singer Guy from the Starset Society pulls our hero to the side of the throng and begins to ask strange questions, "Please. Please. What day is it? How long has it been? When will our band be back on tour?"

The Darlalian is puzzled by the questions saying, "I'm puzzled by your questions."

"You have to stop her!" pleads Lead Singer Guy.

"Stop who?" asks The Darlalian.

"DARLA! She's in my head! None of it is my own. Darla decides what makes it onto her show and what doesn't."

The Darlalian sees the others in the room grimly nod in agreement before abruptly going back to "normal" behavior. It's then he notices The Puppy Child seeming to manipulate balls of energy with her paws.

Reality itself is now in question.
